Layout near airport stalled, HC intervenes

DH News Service, Bangalore:

The High Court has quashed an order by the Bangalore International Airport Authority Planning Authority (BIAAPA), rejecting the proposal to establish a layout by a private realtor.

The Court was hearing a petition by Baba Developers and others, who were refused permission for layout formation by BIAAPA which maintained that they had a preliminary master plan and the final plan was awaited. The Court has directed consideration of the proposal within two weeks.

On Thursday, the State submitted that the final master plan is ready and will be notified within January 31. Advocate General Udaya Holla said the notification cannot be done now in view of the code of conduct for the by polls scheduled on December 27.

The petitioners had submitted their plan for a layout around Devanahalli, which BIAAPA had rejected and the former challenged it in the High Court saying they cannot reject their proposal based on a preliminary master plan. The Court ordered submission of the final plan.
